All notes and flowcharts and processes that are used by Cargo Learning Academy as part of its online training, that are not direct extracts from source documents such as the IATA DGR, the IATA Live Animal Regulations, the IATA Infectious Substance Shipping Guidelines, Part 108 Legislation, Part 109 Legislation, etcetera, are fully copyrighted. These notes and flowcharts and processes were developed by Cargo Learning Academy for exclusive use by Cargo Learning Academy. Regarding these notes and flowcharts and processes: All rights regarding these are reserved by Cargo Learning Academy. These notes, flowcharts and processes may in no way be directly or indirectly reproduced, adjusted and used, distributed, or transmitted in any form or by any means, including photocopying, recording, or other electronic or mechanical methods, without the prior written permission of Cargo Learning Academy. Any form of screen grab, picture downloading, photography of or screen recording, etcetera, of any course content is strictly forbidden, unless prior written permission has been obtained from Cargo Learning Academy. No segment of any of this material may in any way be uploaded onto any form of intranet, extranet or website, such as for example the ASQS network. This direction is aimed at all, but explicitly also at all training institutions and individuals that present or intend presenting this subject, or peripheral (related, fringe or bordering) subjects in any way, shape or form. It is a Copyright infringement if any instructor from any other training institution peruses this material without written permission from Cargo Learning Academy. Such a Copyright infringement would be attached to the instructor who requests to peruse this material, as well as the individual who presents this material to such instructor for perusal. Cargo Learning Academy also requires that any instructor or prospective instructor, who intends attending any course at Cargo Learning Academy, whether classroom based or online, must, prior to the commencement of such training, clearly declare to Cargo Learning Academy that he/she is or intends becoming an instructor. This material may also not be used for in-house training, whether directly or indirectly, conducted to colleagues by, for example, a person who attended a course at Cargo Learning Academy. Nor may any part of this material be incorporated into any form of in-house training syllabi. This material may only be used within an operational environment for operational purposes only by delegates who perform the relevant course related task/s within an operational environment, who have attended the relevant course at Cargo Learning Academy. In other words, if you perform a specific task within an operational environment, and you attended a related course with Cargo Learning Academy, then you are absolutely entitled to use the full spectrum of the course content when performing that task in your operational environment. This is a legal directive and any infringements will be met with legal action as deemed necessary by Cargo Learning Academy.
